

The Invading force of the Uthuk reached the Broken River where both forces set up an outpost to prepare for the battle. The three tents form the commanding center for the factions and capturing even one of them would mean destruction for it's holder...

SETUP

Setup as indicated on the map. Both factions receive 55 muster points due to the command tents but both factions must defend three outposts. The Daqan player must spent 15 muster points if he wants to include the Rock Warrior in his army.

SPECIAL RULES

There are two banners on the bridges each banner yielding VPs for one of the two factions. There is also a central banner yielding 2 VPs each round for it's holder. But there is also the option of capturing one of the outposts behind the enemy lines to achieve automatic victory. No other special rules apply to the scenario.

OBJECTIVE

Victory is achieved if one of the factions reaches 20 points, or automatically if one of the factions captures one of the enemy's outposts at their side of the board.
