

After our unfortunate event in the North Planes, we managed to reach the Enchanted Forest but one of our scouts reported that the previous night he saw an Uthuk Y'llan shaman gathering trying to summon a very Powerful Chaos Lord. The scout was utterly terrified and claimed that during the ritual he heard a frightening voice coming from nowhere saying: "If you want the power of Chaos by your side you must pay with your army's blood!". Now all that remains is to see in our own eyes if the Uthuk decided to sacrifice their own troops in order to summon the Chaos Lord...
