

Rumours of a Chaos Lord Necromancer had been sweeping the Daqan front line for weeks, but most put it down to paranoia and scrambled minds, until it was upon them out of the early morning mists....

SETUP

Daqan :

Muster army, value 50 pts.

Take 3 Lore cards, return 1, and shuffle deck.

Take 2 Lore tokens.

Uthuk :

Begin with 50 muster points, but do not spend any.....

Place the Necromancer Chaos Lord on the hex shown, he remains stationary on this hex for the entire battle.

Take 2 Lore Cards and 1 Lore Token.

Command Cards are not used by either side in this battle.

SPECIAL RULES

Daqan :

Any 3 Daqan units may be ordered to move and/or attack each turn.

Uthuk :

Firstly on its turn, while muster points remain, the Chaos Lord summons an undead Uthuk unit from the earth below the Daqans feet.

Roll 1d6 to determine the unit raised, and then place it in any of the available numbered hexes, using the following guide :

- 1 and 6 - Viper Legion unit on appropriate rank.
- 2 and 5 - Blood Harvester unit on appropriate rank.
- 3 - Obscene unit on appropriate rank.
- 4 - Ripper Brute unit on appropriate rank.

Once the unit has been raised, place its muster card outside of the game board to start a record of muster points spent raising the dead.

Then command up to 3 units to move and/or attack, regardless of their position on the battlefield.

If an undead unit is summoned in a hex occupied by a Daqan unit, roll dice equal to the strength of the Daqan unit. For any roll of "heroic" one Daqan unit is dragged underground and eliminated instantly. The summoned Uthuk unit then moves to any adjacent unoccupied hex and awaits movement / combat orders.

If the Necromancer attempts to summon a unit that he does not have enough muster points to call upon, it may either forfeit its summoning turn and proceed to unit combat or destroy any weak Uthuk unit already on the battlefield and add its muster points to the total it has left, and then use that new total to summon the new unit.

OBJECTIVE

Uthuk :

Destroy the Daqan army.

Daqan :

Destroy the Chaos Lord Necromancer.
