Giant Wasp Poison: Found on the deadly Nergif, this thick yellow fluid can be quite debilitating when placed upon a weapon. (Injury {DC 18}; 1d6 Dex / 1d6 Dex)
Prerequisites: Wasp and Craft (Poison making) DC 20;
Market Price: 210 gp per dose; Frequency: Adventure (May ONLY purchase a maximum of 4 doses)

Greater Influence Point with the Church of Rao: For heroically infiltrating the enemy's camp and finding out important strategic elements the Church is in your favor. Bishop Rinken offers his personal gratitude to you. (This works even if you have disfavor or enmity of the Church)

Healing Cap Upgrade: The following Good Aligned Cleric (Only good aligned clerics may have the Healing Cap) has allowed Bishop Rinken the honor of wearing the cap when he goes before the Colleges for his speech. By doing an unselfish act and for kindness the Bishop will bless the cap himself and bestow upon it the following abilities: Protection from Evil 2/day and Detect Evil 3/day.

However this upgrade will mean that the Healing Cap is unusable for the PCs next Living Greyhawk adventure then Bishop Rinken returns it to the PC. Payment for the upgrade is not due until the PC gets the Healing Cap back. Caster Level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, A Raoan cap that has been blessed by the Canon of Veluna; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Frequency: Adventure

A Hint of Orc: The following PC was fond of his orc body and acted very much like those vile and despicable creatures. However due to the constant crude humor, tasteless attacks against others he/she now has slightly longer teeth and a light greenish hue to their arms and legs. However the PC also has learned to speak Orc since his/her affinity of them was not reversed by the counter spell. (If the PC already knows Orc then they just get the physical features)
