

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS LIVING FORGOTTEN REALMS

(character name)

HAS RECEIVED STORY AWARDS FROM:
(cross out those not received)

~~DRAG1-3 A STAB IN THE DARK~~

DRAG05 Westgate Reputation

You successfully assisted in the rescue of Chief Sergeant Featherby from the Fire Knives. News of your involvement has spread and you have earned a reputation for adventuring in the city. In some circles you are seen as 'meddlesome', in others as 'potentially useful'. Either could come back to haunt you.

If you have the DRAG03 Docks District Enforcer/Liberator/Meddler Story Award your reputation increases depending on the title already earned:

Enforcer—Muscle for the Watch. You've helped the Watch out of a few tough spots. When they need to bend (not break) the law to get the job done, they call you.

Meddler—Troublemaker. No matter your intentions, Docks locals seem to question your motivations.

Liberator—Your sympathies for the people are recognized in every corner of the city. A visit from a black-garbed figure in the middle of the night has asked if you would occasionally be prepared to discreetly deliver messages for Master Fan Ji, a humble Shou merchant.

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS LIVING FORGOTTEN REALMS

(character name)

HAS RECEIVED STORY AWARDS FROM:
(cross out those not received)

~~DRAG1-3 A STAB IN THE DARK~~

DRAG05 Westgate Reputation

You successfully assisted in the rescue of Chief Sergeant Featherby from the Fire Knives. News of your involvement has spread and you have earned a reputation for adventuring in the city. In some circles you are seen as 'meddlesome', in others as 'potentially useful'. Either could come back to haunt you.

If you have the DRAG03 Docks District Enforcer/Liberator/Meddler Story Award your reputation increases depending on the title already earned:

Enforcer—Muscle for the Watch. You've helped the Watch out of a few tough spots. When they need to bend (not break) the law to get the job done, they call you.

Meddler—Troublemaker. No matter your intentions, Docks locals seem to question your motivations.

Liberator—Your sympathies for the people are recognized in every corner of the city. A visit from a black-garbed figure in the middle of the night has asked if you would occasionally be prepared to discreetly deliver messages for Master Fan Ji, a humble Shou merchant.

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS LIVING FORGOTTEN REALMS

(character name)

HAS RECEIVED STORY AWARDS FROM:
(cross out those not received)

~~DRAG1-3 A STAB IN THE DARK~~

DRAG05 Westgate Reputation

You successfully assisted in the rescue of Chief Sergeant Featherby from the Fire Knives. News of your involvement has spread and you have earned a reputation for adventuring in the city. In some circles you are seen as 'meddlesome', in others as 'potentially useful'. Either could come back to haunt you.

If you have the DRAG03 Docks District Enforcer/Liberator/Meddler Story Award your reputation increases depending on the title already earned:

Enforcer—Muscle for the Watch. You've helped the Watch out of a few tough spots. When they need to bend (not break) the law to get the job done, they call you.

Meddler—Troublemaker. No matter your intentions, Docks locals seem to question your motivations.

Liberator—Your sympathies for the people are recognized in every corner of the city. A visit from a black-garbed figure in the middle of the night has asked if you would occasionally be prepared to discreetly deliver messages for Master Fan Ji, a humble Shou merchant.