Welcome

The Blueprints product line offers you old-fashioned blue printed maps for using in your adventures and campaigns. For each map you get a blueprint version and a standard black and white version. The maps are all vector-based so you will get maximum print resolution. Despite their old fashioned appearance each map offers you a degree of customization, using the pdf technology at its best. A button (which will not be printed) on each map allows you to turn on and off the grid, eliminate the room numbers, get the walls filled, don't show doors and furniture and many other options, depending on the kind of map.

Each product features a classic fantasy adventure location: a dungeon, a keep, a temple complex, a thieves guild and so on. You can use these map as reference to build your own adventures or simply take them at hand in case your players go in an unexpected direction during the campaign.

While offering you the best quality, these products are really inexpensive.

The Rule the Dungeon© Feature

This exclusive feature allows you to customize the look of your map by adding the furniture, toggle the grid, hide the room numbers and much more.

On each sheet, you will find a big "Rule the Dungeon" button.

This button will not be printed, so, don't mind if it overlaps something on the map. By clicking on this button some options will be shown, as detailed below. A checkmark will appear beside the options active. The options available vary with products, below is a list of the most common options:

- Numbers: toggle room numbers and text.
- Furniture: toggle furniture.
- Doors: toggle doors
- Square/Hex Grid: toggle square grid and hexagonal grid.
- No Grid: turn off the grid
- Fill: toggle the black in the walls.
- All: toggle default state/empty state (with just the walls).

Other Options

Each map displays a star marking the "N" for "north". You can change the orientation of your map by clicking on the star. Each time you click, the "N" rotates by 45 degrees.

In order to avoid setting each map, you can use the Master Control Panel (MCP) on the following page. This control panel displays a "Rule the Dungeon" Button which controls all the maps at once. A box on the left of this button displays the state of the maps while using this button. Please note that the actions on the master button override all the actions made previously on the maps. In the MCP you will find also a star marking the "N". By clicking on this star you'll set the orientation of all maps at once; if you don't want the star to be printed just use the checkbox on the MCP, just below the star.

Furthermore two buttons on the MCP allow you to print only the blue maps or the black-n-white maps, so you don't have to select each page and print it.

The Great City: Cold Crypts

As you descend the wide marble stairs, the temperature drops dramatically. The air turns frigid, stinging your throat and lungs with its iciness as your breath condenses, sticking to the cold, granite walls in foggy crystals. You have entered the legendary Cold Crypts beneath Castle Atregan. Quickly you recall dozens of tales about the lightless world of ancient and terrible hauntings – how its darkness remains unblemished, for merely lighting the passages is a sin. Whispered tales come to mind of unknown fates that have befallen those mortals daring to transgress its sanctity without the proper rituals. You hope these stories are only to fill the curiosity of petulant children with dread, or to dissuade would-be thieves.

Beneath the castle lies a massive ancestral crypt, a labyrinthine tangle of thousands of tombs of ancient nobles, priests, and seers. Tales abound that the sins of centuries of Atregan rule drive restless spirits from their graves to wander the hallways in malevolent mockery.

There are miles of crypts, with passages leading deep into the earth. Some even trail off into natural caverns or worse, the Dungeon Under the Mountain (see The Dungeon Under the Mountain).

As local legends profess, the Cold Crypt's halls are filled with ghosts, each with their own unique stories and motivations. Dependent on their desires, they may attack, aid, or mislead those venturing through the crypts. Finding one's way safely through requires the aid of its denizens and clever interpretations of their enigmatic clues, as well as writings and other messages in the crypt walls.

The entrance to Cold Crypts is located at the staircase at the end of the Main Corridor of the Underground Floor of castle Atregan (See Øone's Blueprints: The Great City, Castle Ward. The Crypts themselves are built as a maze-like structure, however is they are simple enough to navigate for those who understand architecture or possess similar skills. The older chambers date back to the founding of the Castle. These in fact, are located closer to the surface, while many of the deeper passages are newer, built and established to house more recently deceased nobility. Additionally, some of the ghosts entertain conversations with mortals, and PCs clever enough to speak with them gain the opportunity to pick up further clues as to its navigation.
