The Wonderful World of NPCs

NPC classes in Pathfinder provide a simplified class that can be easily applied to provide a means of representing the various "typical" roles that may be found in a fantasy world. These classes allow the GM to flesh out the roles of typical NPCs that may be encountered in a social environment (towns, cities, etc.) and generally only grant the NPC bonuses to base attacks, saving throws, and specific class skills and limits proficiency to weapons and armor. Of the five standard NPC classes the only one that offers an additional class ability is the Adept that grants limited divine spell casting.

Of the five standard NPC classes only the Adept and Warrior appear to offer simplified versions of standard core classes (the Cleric and Fighter respectively). Experts may be seen as simplified rogues with their wide selection of class skills and use of light armor and all simple weapons. The aristocrat class appears to be a mix between fighter and rogue with access to all simple and martial weapons and armor while a fairly comprehensive class skill list. Leaving the commoner class as the most generic not really patterned on any particular class.

So this begs the question, what about the other classes? Are there NPCs that have a reverence for nature but never gain the ability to wild shape or traveling minstrels that may be inspiring but lack the ability to cast spells? So this supplement hopes to fill that gap by offering NPC classes that are modeled after core Classes but do not offer the breadth or power of the full class but can be used to represent those that fill a societal role within the fantasy world.

NPC Classes

Ascetic

For some, the life of self-discipline and denial is not just a matter of life style but one that transcends sublime enlightenment. The ascetic prefers the cloistered life and those that have the same beliefs or ideals form monasteries in which they may practice their austere lifestyle together.

Alignment: The ascetic may be of any lawful alignment.

Hit Die: d8

Class Skills

Climb, Craft, Heal, Knowledge (history), Knowledge (religion), Perception, Perform, Profession, Sense Motive, and Swim

Skill Ranks per Level: 4 + Int modifier

Class Features

Weapon and Armor Proficiencies: The ascetic is proficient with simple melee weapons and a monk weapon of her choice. The ascetic is not proficient with armor or shields. In addition, the ascetic loses any benefit of her class abilities while wearing armor or carrying a shield for defense.

ascetic may add her Wisdom bonus (if any, minimum of 0) to her AC. This bonus increases by +1 at 4th, 10th, 14th, and 18th level.

Unarmed Strike (Ex): At 1st level the ascetic gains Improved Unarmed Strike as a bonus feat. An ascetic's attacks may be made with any appendage and may even attack while her hands are full. While making unarmed attacks, none of the ascetic's attacks are considered off-handed and she gains her full Strength bonus to the attack. The ascetic may choose to make either lethal or nonlethal (or a combination) while making unarmed attacks.

The ascetic's unarmed damage is more substantial than a normal unarmed attack and at 1st level each attack causes 1d6 points of damage. At 6th level this damage increases to 1d8 points of damage, 1d10 at 12th level, and 1d12 at 18th level. Her attacks are treated as both manufactured and natural in regards to any enhancements that may be cast on ascetic.

Flurry of Blows (Ex): At 2nd level the ascetic may make a flurry of blows as a full attack action. This has the same effect as the Two-Weapon Fighting feat, allowing the ascetic to make an extra attack while suffering a -2 penalty on all of her attack rolls when using unarmed attacks or her chosen monk weapon or quarterstaff. Unlike the monk, the ascetic does not use her ascetic level as her base attack bonus, but she does apply her full strength modifier to all attacks and she may substitute disarm, sunder, or trip combat maneuvers in place of an unarmed attack as part of the flurry of blows. The ascetic may not use a natural attack other than her normal unarmed attack as part of the attacks made with this ability.

Stunning Fist (Ex): The ascetic may sacrifice her 3rd level feat to gain the Stunning Fist feat without needing to meet any of the prerequisites. She may attempt a stunning attack a number of times equal to her ascetic level, plus one additional time for every four levels possessed in other classes.

Fatiguing Fist (Ex): If the ascetic has the Stunning Fist feat (either as part of her normal feat selection or gained at 3rd level as part of her class abilities) then she may sacrifice her 5th level feat to gain this ability. The ascetic may replace the stun effect of the Stunning fist with the fatigued condition for 1d4 rounds, declared before the attack is made. Multiple strikes do not grant the exhaust condition, but will extend the duration of the fatigue condition.

Sickening Fist (Ex): The ascetic may sacrifice her 7th level feat to gain this class ability as long as she possesses the Stunning Fist feat (as above). She may sicken the opponent for 1 minute with a successful strike after declaring that the attack is a sickening first prior to the attack. Multiple sickening strikes will not nauseate an opponent, but it will extend the duration of the sickened condition.

Staggering Blow (Ex): The ascetic may sacrifice her 13th level feat to gain this class ability as long as she possesses the Stunning Fist feat (as above). She may stagger the opponent for 1d6+1 rounds with a successful strike, the attack must be declared prior to the actual attack.

Battle Mage

While flinging fireballs and lightning bolts against enemy forces may have a temporary affect to the tide of battle, there are those that work behind the lines, enhancing troops with subtle arcane benefits, magically repairing broken equipment and providing other logistical enhancement to their units.

Alignment: The battle mage may be of any alignment.

Hit Die: d6

Class Skills

Craft, Heal, Intimidate, Knowledge (arcana), Profession, Ride, Spellcraft, Survival, and Use Magic Device

Skill Ranks per Level: 2 + Int modifier

Class Features

Weapon and Armor Proficiencies:

The battle mage is proficient with all simple weapons and a single light or one-handed martial weapon. He is not proficient with any type of armor or shield and will suffer the normal chance of arcane spell failure if the battle mage wears armor.

Spells (Sp): The battle mage casts arcane spells from the Battle Mage spell list as long as his Intelligence is equal to at least 10 + the spell level. The difficulty class for any saving throws for his spells is equal to 10 + the spell level + the battle mage's Intelligence modifier. The enchanter may cast a certain number of spells per day and gains additional spells based on his Intelligence as given in the Table: Ability Modifiers and Bonus Spells in the Pathfinder Core Rulebook.

The battle mage must

The standard rules regarding spell books apply and the battle mage begins with a spell book with four cantrips and a two arcane spells from the battle mage spell list. The battle mage gains one additional spell per class level thereafter that he is able to cast (or two cantrips) as his efforts in research and continual study, though he may gain other spells through other means as well.

Cantrips: The battle mage may prepare a number of cantrips -- 0 level spells -- per day based on his class level. These spells are not expended when cast and the enchanter may cast them as desired.

Hard Hitter (Ex): The battle mage gains Spell Focus (Evocation) as a bonus feat at 2nd level.

Berserker

Either born of fury or evoked through personal conviction or tragedy, the berserker flies into a state of bestial tenacity and fervor when diving into battle. Berserkers are seen as savage and crude, generally avoided by those deemed more civilized.

Alignment: The berserker may be of any non-lawful alignment.

Rage (Ex): The berserker may enter a furious rage that boosts his adrenaline levels during combat. At 1st level the berserker may rage for a number of rounds per day equal to his class level plus his Constitution modifier. This rage grants the berserker a +4 bonus to his Strength and +2 bonus to his Constitution and Will saves while suffering a -2 penalty to his Armor Class. While in a rage the berserker may not use any Charisma, Dexterity, or Intelligence based skills except Acrobatics, Fly, Intimidate, and Ride. The berserker gains an additional hit point per level while in the rage, but these are subtracted from his current hit points when the rage ends (they are not treated as temporary hit points).

The berserker may enter or leave the rage as a free action, but once he stops raging he is fatigued for a number of rounds equal to twice the number of rounds spent raging. An exhausted or fatigued berserker may not enter into a rage and if the berserker falls unconscious the rage immediately ends.

The berserker does not gain rage powers as a class ability, but they may take the Extra Rage Power feat beginning at 3rd level to obtain one or more rage powers as long as they meet the requirements for the rage power. Treat the berserker's class level as ½ the effective barbarian level for any level dependent requirements.

Conjurer

Summoning both items and creatures from the void, the conjuror lives to bring their imagination into existence. Taught stagecraft to entertain the masses, the conjuror relies on both magic and duplicity as part of his act. Focusing on magics that produce objects and monsters from thin air it gives his performances an air of authenticity.

Alignment: The conjuror may be of any alignment.

Cutthroat

Skulking in the darkest of alleyways, there are those that strike from the shadows whose intent is solely their own notion.

The cutthroat has learned from an early age that taking a victim out unawares is the easiest and best way to relieve them of their personal goods and possibly their lives.

Alignment: The cutthroat may be of any non-good alignment.

Hit Die: d8

Class Skills

Appraise, Bluff, Climb, Craft, Intimidate, Knowledge (local), Perception, Profession, Sense Motive, and Stealth

Skill Ranks per Level: 6 + Int Modifier

Class Features

Weapon and Armor Proficiencies: The cutthroat is proficient with all simple weapons, with light and one-handed martial slashing and piercing melee weapons, and the hand crossbow. He is also proficient with light armor but not with shields.

Sneak Attack (Ex): Beginning at 1st level the cutthroat may catch an opponent unaware and strike a vital spot to cause extra damage. Whenever the cutthroat's victim is denied their Dexterity bonus to AC (regardless of the actual dexterity modifier) or being flanked by the cutthroat, the attack causes an additional 1d6 points of damage. The damage increases to 2d6 at 4th level and increases an additional 1d6 every four levels thereafter (maximum of 6d6 at 20th level). This damage is not multiplied for critical hits and certain creatures may be immune to this type of precision damage. The cutthroat may use this ability with a ranged attack as long as it is within 30 feet or the first range increment (whichever is shorter).

The cutthroat may not cause nonlethal damage while performing the sneak attack unless the weapon is classified as nonlethal.

Druid Aspirant

For some, the call and power of the wild fills their very soul and they seek a lifetime of communion with mother nature though they lack the true faith to accept the true blessings she may bestow. These individuals take on the role of caretakers and administrators, fulfilling the duties of preservation and cultivation of the faith and nature itself. Druid aspirants congregate in small secretive groups, often led by a full blooded druid or possibly a nature based fey such as a dryad or satyr.

Alignment: The druid aspirant must have a neutral aspect to her alignment.

While most work within the lower social strata, some notorious enchanters have gained positions of real wealth and power over a period of time.

Minstrel

Entertaining others is a natural compulsion for many though they lack the drive and discipline to study the esoteric arts of the bardic colleges. The minstrel wraps skill and talent in one or more performing arts and makes a profession using those skills for the benefit of others (often while benefiting himself).

Skill Ranks per Level: 6 + Int modifier

Class Features

Weapon and Armor Proficiencies: The minstrel is proficient with all light and one handed simple melee weapons, simple ranged weapons, and light martial weapons. The minstrel is not proficient with any type of armor or shield.

Oral Tradition (Ex): The minstrel takes the time to learn many stories and songs while perfecting his performances. As a result, he can add half his class level to any Knowledge skill checks for any skill in which he has at least 1 one rank.

Inspiring Performance (Ex): At 1st level the minstrel may use his performance to inspire others and regale crowds. As a standard action he may begin a performance that grants certain benefits and he may maintain it as a move action each round thereafter. He may use this ability a total number of rounds per day equal to his Charisma modifier + his class level. Any effects granted by the minstrel's performance is lost if he is incapacitated (killed, paralyzed, or unconscious). If a saving throw is required, the DC is equal to 10 + half the minstrel's class level + his Charisma modifier.

Inspire the Crowd (Ex): The minstrel may influence the attitude of a crowd of people (treat as a swarm) as the Diplomacy skill. Individuals within the crowd that actively seek to resist this ability are allowed a Will save. The crowd must be able to see and hear the minstrel and any obvious threat to the crowd as a whole will negate this ability. The minstrel may attempt to shift the attitude of the crowd by one step each round. Once the crowd is treated as friendly the minstrel may end this ability, though he may need to continue with his performance. Once the performance ends whether or not the crowd's attitude worsens depends on the situation and the actions of the minstrel or any possible associates. This is a mind affecting ability that requires those affected to be able to both see and hear the minstrel.

Inspire Courage (Ex): The minstrel may use his Inspiring Performance to encourage friends and associates (as well as himself) while facing danger. Each ally that can see and hear the minstrel gains a +1 morale bonus against fear and charm effects and attack rolls. This bonus increased to +2 at 10th level.

Suggestion (Su): At 12th level the minstrel may make a suggestion as part of his performance, similar to the spell with following differences. The effect can be used on crowds of individuals for simple actions that can be explained by a single sentence or phrase with an action that may be completed while the minstrel is using this inspiring performance. The crowd must have a friendly attitude and individuals within the crowd are allowed a Will saving throw if desired and the crowd as a whole is allowed a saving throw if the action may cause them injury or perform actions that they normally would not do. Those in the crowd that are affected by this ability must be able to see and hear the minstrel. This is an enchantment (compulsion) language dependent ability.

Pickpocket

There are a thousand ways to fleece a mark and the pickpocket spends his spare time trying to learn them all. For some it is more enterprising to try and relieve others of their hard earned gold than to find an honest means to do the same. Whether it is a momentary distraction or a quick nick of the blade to empty an easily accessible pouch, the pickpocket thrives both in the application of his skill along with the thrill of possibly getting caught in the act.

Alignment: The pickpocket may be of any non-lawful alignment.

Class Features

Weapon and Armor Proficiencies: The thaumaturge is proficient with simple weapons. They are not proficient with armor or shields. The thaumaturge may wear light armor without effecting their class abilities including the ability to make extracts. If the thaumaturge wears any heavier armor he suffers the normal chance of arcane spell failure for any extracts he produces.

Alchemy (Sp): The thaumaturge gains a competence bonus to any Craft (alchemy) checks equal to his class level as long as he has at least 1 rank in that skill. He may also use his Craft (alchemy) skill to identify potions as if using Detect Magic if he holds the potion for at least 1 round.

The thaumaturge may also use his alchemy skills to produce temporary potions known as extracts each day. Extracts are susceptible to Dispel Magic using the thaumaturge's class level as the caster level. Extracts may be chosen from the Thaumaturge extract list and he must have an Intelligence of at least 10 + the extract level in order to be able to create the extract. He also gains additional extracts per day if he has a high Intelligence score as given in the Table: Ability Modifiers and Bonus Spells in the Pathfinder Core Rulebook.

The thaumaturge must have a formula to create an extract and will typically have a formulae list book to store them (see Thaumaturge Formulae List below). It takes one minute to create an extract, though the thaumaturge may prepare his extracts at the beginning of the day after 8 hours of rest. The thaumaturge begins with three 1st level formulas in his formulae list book and he gains an additional formula for each level attained. He may also seek out other formulae from other thaumaturges or alchemists to add to his formulae list book.

The extracts only function for the thaumaturge, once it leaves his possession it becomes inert until he regains possession of it. Extracts expire after twenty four hours regardless and the thaumaturge must spend time daily to create the extracts he needs.

The thaumaturge may use spell-trigger magic items that is on his formulae list but may not use spell-completion items except through the Use Magic Device skill.

Brew Potion (Sp): The thaumaturge gains Brew Potion as a bonus feat at 1st level. He may use this feat to create potions for any formula he knows (up to 3rd level), using his thaumaturge level as his effective caster level. The formula must be one that can be made into a potion. The thaumaturge does not need to meet the prerequisites for this feat.

Poison Resistance (Ex): At 2nd level the thaumaturge gains some resistance to poison, gaining a +2 bonus to all saving throws involving them. This bonus increases to +4 at 12th level.

Discoveries: The thaumaturge may choose one of the following alchemist discoveries by sacrificing a normal feat at any level he normally receives a feat: Combine Extracts, Enhance Potion, Extend Potion, and Infusion. The thaumaturge must meet any prerequisites for the discovery, treating the thaumaturge's class level as ½ the effective alchemist level.

Track: The woodsman adds ½ his class level (minimum of 1) to any Survival skill checks made to follow tracks at 1st level.

The woodsman does not need to meet any ability requirements for these feats but must meet any other requirements.

Favored Terrain: The woodsman may sacrifice his 3rd level feat to select a favored terrain. This ability is similar to the Ranger's Favored Terrain and the woodsman selects from the Ranger's Favored Terrain list. While in his selected terrain, the woodsman gains a +1 bonus on initiative checks and a +2 circumstance bonus on Knowledge, Perception, Stealth, and Survival skill checks. In addition, the woodsman leaves no trail while moving through his favored terrain and cannot be tracked unless he desired to do so. Unlike the ranger, previous favored terrains gain no additional benefits when another terrain is selected.

Swift Tracker (Ex): The woodsman may sacrifice his 7th level feat to gain the ability to move at his normal speed while using Survival to track others without the -5 penalty. If he moves up to twice his normal speed, the woodsman only suffers a -10 penalty.

NPC Archetypes

Even NPC classes may apply archetypes. However, these always come at a cost of the NPC class feats gained at every odd level. Some archetype abilities may replace a single feat while others may require multiple feats as the ability itself grows in power. NPC archetypes are never as powerful as the Player Character archetype counterpart, and often do not duplicate all of the same abilities as the original. However, these archetypes are easily applied to an existing NPC character of the required class by simply replacing the character's current feats with the archetype abilities. Note that feats that are required prerequisites for other feats cannot be replaced unless the feat with the prerequisite is replaced as well.

The zombie grants no special benefit to the bone doctor, its Intelligence does not change from mindless, and it retains the staggered condition common to all zombies.

If the zombie should be destroyed, the bone doctor may perform the ritual again after 30 days or attaining a new level, whichever comes first.
