

Living Force 2003 Preview

By Morrie Mullins
Former Living Force Plot Director and Campaign Designer

The third year of the Living Force campaign puts the heroes of the Cularin system in the thick of the action. With the Believers running rampant around Cularin, the Thaereian Military taking up threatening postures, and a number of other problems emerging, how can the heroes possibly confront all the dangers? The answer -- one day (or one event) at a time. Check out this exclusive preview of the Living Force scenarios to be released throughout 2003 and start getting ready for adventure!

January 2003

The "Forces of Cularin" Trilogy

Premiering at Winter Fantasy 2003, "Forces of Cularin" takes the heroes into the heart of the Tarasin lands for a trio of events that explores the origins of the stuff of nightmare for the Tarasin -- a nightmare that comes to life. And before it's all over, the heroes must bid farewell to an old friend . . .

Episode I: Force Concession
Episode II: Force Contention
Episode III: Force Convention

February 2003

Twilight Storm

Master Lanius needs an old friend, a Twi'lek Jedi, brought back to Almas. Given the state of the galaxy, standard means of communication are not working between Almas and Ryloth, and he needs volunteers to make the journey.

March - May 2003

The "Metatheran Caution" Trilogy

The Metatheran Cartel has never been particularly popular with many of the people of Cularin, and things only get worse when a strange new illness arises that has strong links back to the Cartel. Are the heroes willing to trace the problem back to its core - wherever that may take them?

Episode I: Caaried Away
Episode II: Open Arms
Episode III: Belly of the Beaast

June - August 2003

The "Belted In" Trilogy

Nirama, the enigmatic alien crime lord, has an agenda - a very public agenda. He's not happy about recent goings-on in Cularin, and he's less happy with the strangeness in the asteroid belt that he calls "home." Is Nirama helping the people of Cularin, are the people helping him, or is it actually mutual?

Episode I: Incursion
Episode II: Excursion
Episode III: Recursion

July 2003

From the Trees

A clan of Wookiees relocates to the jungles of Cularin and runs afoul of some rather unpleasant natives. Could this be the rumored Wyrd? And if so, can they be stopped?

September - November 2003

The "Night Eyes" Trilogy

The "protection" offered by the Thaereians often includes harsh justice - harsh enough that many citizens of Cularin have become increasingly resentful of the Thaereian presence. Senator Wren, however, maintains that Thaere has her support. Could she possibly know their cruelty?

Episode I: Night's Promise
Episode II: Night's Friend
Episode III: Night's Homecoming

December 2003

Dorumaa's Children

Two years ago, the last of the Leviathans of Dorumaa gave birth to a pair of calves. These two giant children have played in the oceans of the moon, attracting a great deal of attention. (Some of it, from a man named Rufus Trammel, they could have done without.) Now, one of the calves has gone missing, and the other is beside itself with misery. Can the heroes of Cularin find the missing calf?

If you like playing in Living Force scenarios, why not try writing one yourself? Get our writer's guidelines and see how you can help shape the face of the Cularin system!

Explore the Cularin system with the Living Force Campaign Guide, a sourcebook that details the setting, helps you generate characters, and makes it easy to join the RPGA's official Star Wars campaign!