Secret Security Complex

Also located in this area, but not shown on the hotel floor plans, is a hidden security room. Disguised panels at the ends of the two dead-end passageways lead to a two-level high tech monitoring complex, from which the entire hotel — including the security wing — can be watched. Only authorized personnel can enter (only they know it's there!) after being screened by several security and anti-trespass security scanners and monitors. Monitor screens are arrayed in multiple banks within, repeating the monitors in the security wing, and providing back-up monitoring of all strategic hotel areas.
