Handout 2: Castelo's Notes

Y'gonnac, Lord of the Labyrinth, the headless God of a headless society, Lord of Lust and mindless devotion, sits in his prison and waits to be freed. The time has come to liberate him and you have been chosen to organize his liberation.

The film has to be filmed at a secret location. If you do everything right Y'gonnac will take over control of the man and express his message through him.

The copy must not be digitized, just like the original film is not to be recorded on a digital medium. Only a direct and analog copy guarantees that the film keeps its powers.

When a person watches the film, the seed of Y'gonnac is planted within him. Y'gonnac can then use him as an anchor in our world and we can pull him along this anchor into our world. Don't fear, he is our God and will be kind.

As soon as enough people carry the seed inside them, select 15 of them and show them the original film. Keep enough victims around, since even if the God is lenient towards us, he nevertheless needs many sacrifices or his rage will come to you and our city.
